FAREWELL NOTE

Dear Sky4.0 Partners and Beneficiaries,

I am very proud to announce that the project Sky4.0 - Soft Skills 4.0 for the new challenges in European Aerospace Industry is taking its last fly round before landing! Our activities are successfully completed and the final results are already translated to Polish, Portuguese, Spanish and Turkish.

We have prepared key results for our target groups within Aeronautical Industry:

- Industry 4.0 Soft Skills Curricula & Information Set for Trainers and Teachers;
- Industry 4.0 Soft Skills Text & Work Book for Current Industry Workers;
- Sky 4.0 Soft Skills Lessons for Future Industry Workers;
- Sky 4.0 Soft Skills Moodle Courses for Current and Future Industry Workers;
- Industry 4.0 Soft Skills White Paper for HR managers in aeronautical companies and vet providers.

We invite you also to visit Sky4.0 YouTube Channel and project website, with videos and resources which will help to introduce both trainees and teachers to learning and teaching methods designed for 6 Soft Skills: Analytical Thinking, Change Adaptability, Critical Thinking; Initiative; Intellectual Curiosity and Cognitive Flexibility. We are sure that these resources will support the soft skills development that is customized for Industry 4.0 and help current and future aviation workers go through the digital changes of tomorrow.

I appreciate very much great cooperation spirit and the hard work of the excellent Polish-Portuguese-Spanish-Turkish Partnership and I am looking forward to making this project sustainable!

Train the Trainers online workshop for Sky 4.0 Soft Skills

How can we upskill to ensure the soft skills development that is customized for Industry 4.0 and help current and future aviation workers go through the digital changes of tomorrow? We were working hard to answer this question with trainers and aviation HR employees during one week of training moderated by Aviation Valley – the Sky4.0 project leader.
